

A turnkey solution that effectively measures and builds the innovation management system and innovative capabilities of organizations to substantially improve their relative performance and competitiveness.

Who We Are:

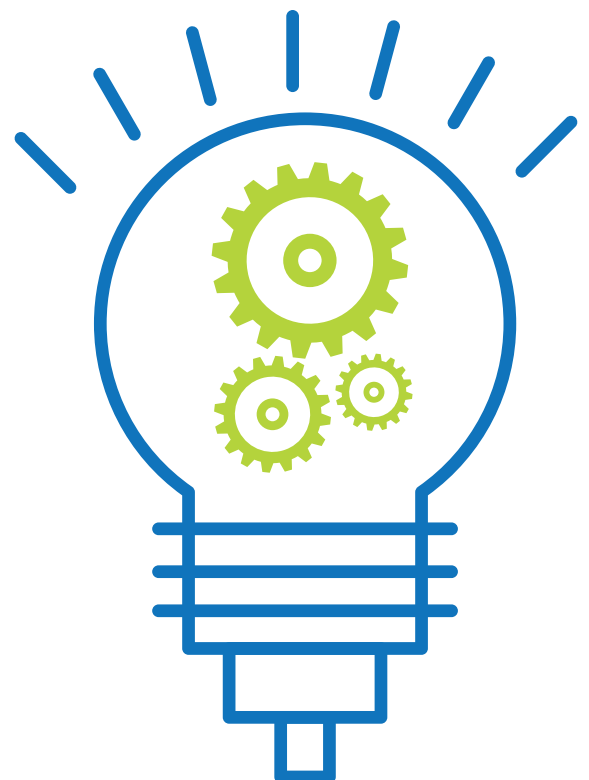

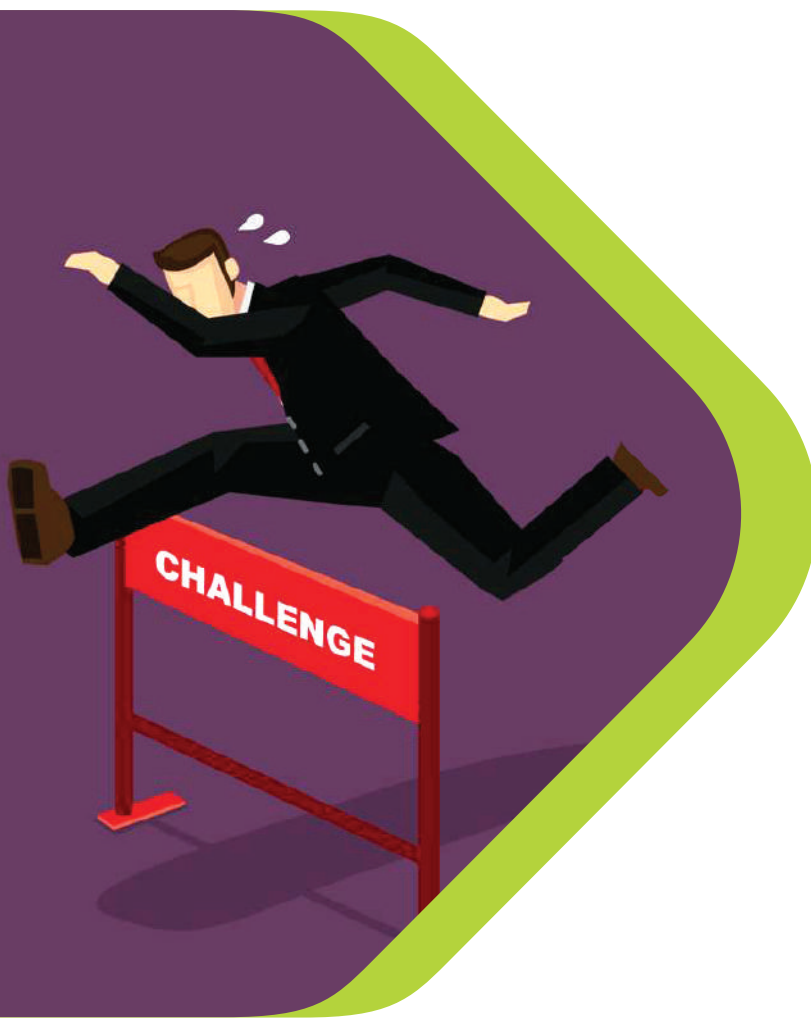

Innoplore Ltd. is a UK based management consultancy, with its head-office located in Glasgow (Scotland). Our team is composed of experienced professionals, researchers, trainers, and practitioners who bring a blended view of their innovation insights in an impactful and deliverable form to produce a documented and substantial improvement in the organizational performance.

The Three Major Challenges for Organizations in Today's Changing World

1) Today's global economy is hit hard by the pandemic of Covid19, and the organizations across the world are struggling to survive the ongoing economic crisis by taking urgent measures such as cutting their costs through adopting the 'lean approach', redefining their value propositions and business models, and finding innovative ways to differentiate themselves from rest of the crowd.

2) The organizations are experiencing unprecedented scale of continuous changes within their internal and external environment. It is increasingly becoming a daunting task for them to correctly understand and effectively respond to the changing trends in various domains to stay relevant and competitive in their respective businesses.

3) The organizations increasingly realize the critical importance of learning and practicing innovation for their survival and growth in their respective markets; however, they often do not have a clear idea where to start from and how to successfully embark on this rewarding journey to produce the desired results and promised impacts.

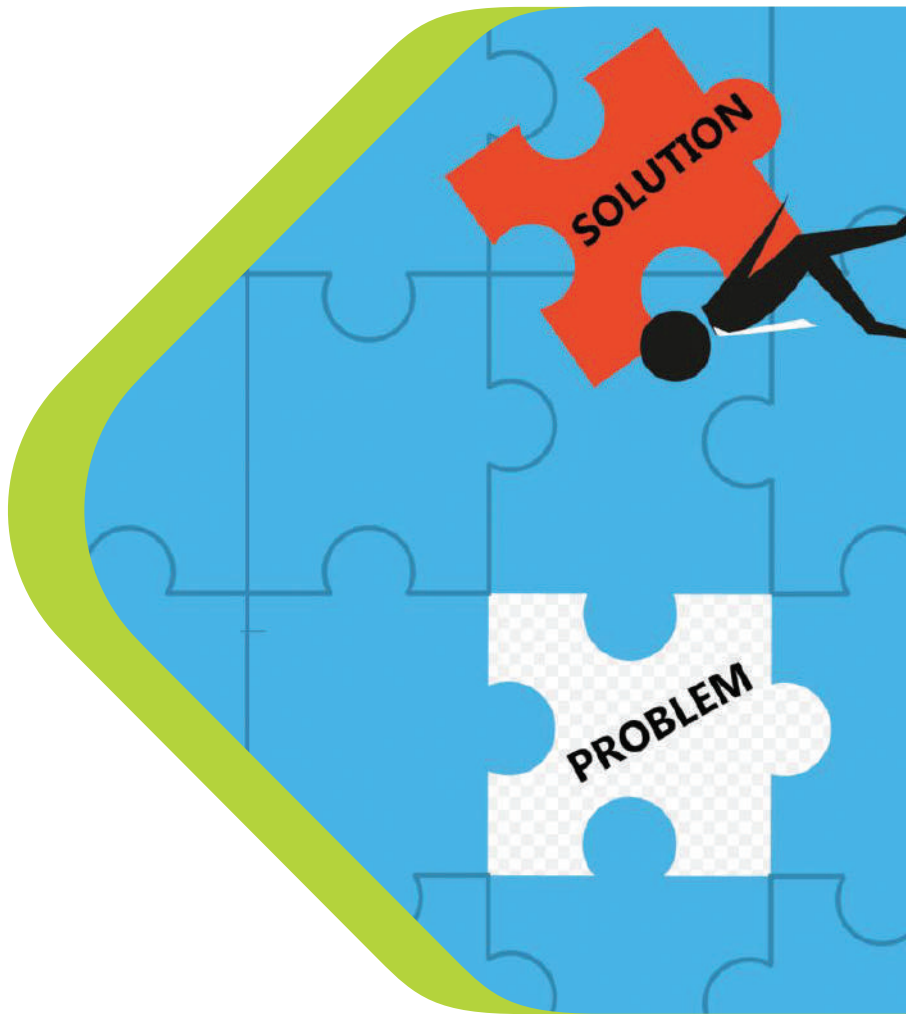

How We Can Help Your Organization to Cope with These Challenges:

✓ Our systematic and comprehensive innovation 'health check' through employing an interactive online self-assessment survey followed by an innovation audit will precisely identify the areas where the desired improvements are required to effectively build the innovation capabilities and readiness in your organization.

✓ Our interactive online innovation platform will build an effective 'idea management system' and strengthen the required 'innovation ecosystem' to support and facilitate the transformation of abstract ideas of your employees into real-life solutions smoothly and systematically.

✓ Our bespoke innovation training and consulting solutions are tailor-made to effectively address the identified gaps, and it will help your organization to successfully implement the suggested innovation roadmap and recommended activities; so that to ensure the achievement of the desired results and impacts for your organization.

How We Do It:

Our offered solutions are aligned with the ISO-56002 innovation guidelines, and we effectively address the key innovation requirements as outlined by ISO to develop the Innovation Management System (IMS) in organizations. Our solutions also support the strategic goals set by the governments to improve the innovation and competitiveness ranking of their respective countries in the Global Innovation Index (GII) and Global Competitiveness Report. Our turn-key solutions are delivered in three critical phases.

1. The Diagnosis (Discovery) Phase – Innoplore Innovation Audit (IIA)
2. The Reinforcement (Alignment) Phase – Innoplore Innovation Platform (IIP)
3. The Implementation (Execution) Phase – Innoplore Training & Consultancy (ITC)
